2) Data subjects may contact the Data Protection Officers and/or contact points designated by the Joint Controllers in the following matters: personal data processing, exercise of rights related to personal data processing, by sending e-mail messages to the e-mail addresses or addresses of the Joint Data Controllers specified in item 1. The Data Protection Officers/contact points are also obliged to provide information on arrangements made between the Joint Controllers if the information is not available via the data protection notices published by the respective Joint Controller on the website.

3) The Joint Controllers as basic research funding organisations cooperate within multilateral networks/programmes, implemented within specific initiatives of partner agencies (without EU subsidies). The core objective of multilateral initiatives is to organise calls for international research projects. The Joint Controllers process personal data to carry out public interest tasks or as an exercise of public authority entrusted to the controller and to comply with the legal duties applicable to each Joint Controller and resulting from the applicable domestic laws, in particular in compliance with Article 6.1.b), Article 6.1.c) and Article 6.1.e) of GDPR. For detailed information on the legal basis of processing please refer to the individual Joint Controller as specified in item 1.

4) The scope and type of data processing, the objectives and methods of processing, including the involvement of the Joint Controllers in those processings as well as the categories of data recipients are provided in Appendix No. 3.

5) The Joint Controllers may process the collected personal data for periods required to perform Cooperation and obligations set forth in the Memorandum of Understanding concluded between the Joint Controllers.

6) Data subjects – depending on the legal basis for processing – shall be entitled to the rights available to them pursuant to applicable laws, including as follows:

- a) to access to their personal data – which means the right to obtain from a Data Joint Controller a confirmation if their personal data are processed. If their data are processed, such data subjects are entitled to get access to their data and to obtain the following information: the purposes of the processing; the categories of personal data concerned; the recipients or categories of recipient to whom the personal data have been or will be disclosed, the envisaged period for which the personal data will be stored or the criteria used to determine that period; the existence of the right to have the personal data corrected, erased or to restrict the processing of personal data and the right to object to the processing of the personal data (Article 15 of GDPR);
- b) to obtain a copy of the personal data being processed – the first copy is free of charge and for any further copies requested by the data subject, the controller may charge a reasonable fee based on administrative costs (Article 15.3 of GDPR);
- c) to have incomplete personal data corrected, including by means of providing a supplementary statement (Article 16 of GDPR);
- d) to have their data deleted if a Data Joint Controller no longer has a legal basis to process the data or the data are no longer required to comply with the objectives of processing (Article 17 of GDPR);
- e) to have the processing restricted when: a data subject questions the accuracy of the personal data – for a period allowing the inspector to verify the accuracy of the data; the processing is unlawful and the data subject opposes the erasure of the personal data and requests the restriction of their use instead; the Joint Controller no longer needs the personal data but they are required by the data subject for determining, pursuing and defending against any claims; the data subject has objected to processing pending verification as to whether the legitimate grounds of the Joint Controller override those of the data subject (Article 18 of GDPR);
- f) to data portability – that is the data subject shall have the right to receive the personal data concerning him or her, which he or she has provided to a Joint Controller, in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and have the right to transmit those data to another controller if the processing is based on consent of the data subject or on a contract concluded with the data subject and when the processing is carried out by automated means (Article 20 of GDPR);
- g) the right to object to processing of their personal data for legitimate objectives of the Controller on grounds relating to their particular situation, including profiling. Then the Joint Controller will have to demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override the interests, rights and freedoms of the data subject or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims. If, following such review, the interests of the data subject override the interests of the Controller, the Controller shall be obliged to discontinue the processing of the data in connection with objectives (Article 21 of GDPR);
- h) the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority if they consider that the processing of their personal data does not comply with of GDPR (Article 77 of GDPR).

7) The sharing of personal data during the Cooperation is required for the Joint Controllers to perform their duties.

8) The personal data processed for the purposes specified herein may be transferred to the following third countries:

- a) Switzerland - pursuant to Article 45 of GDPR – on the basis of an adequacy decisions of the Commission;

- b) Turkey - pursuant to Article 46.2.c) of GDPR – on the basis of standard data protection clauses adopted by the Commission in accordance with the examination procedure in Article 93.2 or pursuant to Article 49 of GDPR.

In case the standard data protection clauses referred to in the preceding sentence are the legal basis of the third country transfer, a copy of the standard data protection clauses shall be provided when so requested by a data subject.

- 9) The personal data will not be processed in an automatic way (including in the form of profiling, (Article 22 of GDPR).
